Fees Set Monday For Democratic Primary

The Democratic County Executive Committee was in session Monday night to set the fees against local candidates to pay the expenses of the double primary, to draw for places on the primary ballot and to conduct such other business as came before the body.

Under the law, places on the primary ballots must be drawn by lot in every race where there are more than one candidate for any office. This is always an interesting feature of the meeting. County Chairman Newton Crain placed numbers in a hat, and various members of the executive committee drew for places on the ballots.

It will cost more to get names printed on the ballots this year because of the small number of candidates, and the fact that the legislature raised the pay of all workers in the elections of Texas.

J. W. Shook explained to the committee the difficulties which will confront the election judges this year in counting the votes. The new election law provides for a modified Australian ballot, with boxes before the names of each candidate, and at the same time provides that the voters may scratch out the names of candidates which they do not care to support. This will slow down the count, stated Mr. Shook. He urged that all voters use the boxes in front of each name, placing a check mark or an X in the box before the name of the candidate the voter wishes to support. As example:

For Governor:

☐ Allan Shivers, Jefferson Co.
☐ Ralph Yarborough, Travis Co.
☐ Mrs. Allene M. Taylor, Bexar Co.

A simple check mark in the box before one of these three candidates will be easy to count.

The assessment against the candidates was based upon the amount of salary paid by each office. The assessment was placed as near 4% of the annual salary as possible. Whereas it cost about $2300 to hold the election two years ago, it will cost approximately $3200 to hold the election this year—and there is nothing that the executive committee can do about it. Randall county will have approximately 6600 votes this year as compared with less than half that time two years ago. Fees must be paid to County Chairman Newton Crain by June 21.

Absentee votes may be cast starting July 6 and continuing until midnight, July 22.

The first primary election will be held on July 26. Election judges must report on the vote within 24 hours following the close of the polls.

The second precinct election will be held on the afternoon of primary election day, with the county convention following on August 2. This county convention is called the "Governor's Convention," and has a platform which will be adopted for the Governor to run upon in the general election.

Canyon City Club Had Steak Dinner for Members Sunday

Members of the Canyon City Club were treated to a steak dinner Sunday noon in the beautiful grove of trees adjoining the Palo Duro Creek which flows through the grounds.

W. O. Cates, member of the club and director, furnished 225 steaks which were barbecued by John Hunter and his crew of assistants early Sunday morning. This is the third time that a barbecue has been held for the benefit of the members and the large crowd present was testimony of the popularity of the occasion. Charles Donnell is president of the Club this year.

As a matter of fact, all of the steaks were gone and several persons, including the group of men who prepared the meal, failed to get their portion of food for the picnic dinner.

Following the meal, members of the club continued with the golf tournament which was started three weeks ago.

VFW Meet for Picnic And Clean up Area

Members of the local VFW organization conducted a two purpose meeting Thursday afternoon and evening, June 12. The meeting was a combination of a picnic and a clean up drive at the VFW headquarters northwest of town.

Luke Miller, commander of the club, said everyone had a wonderful time. Those attending brought a lunch and when the clean up drive about the grounds ended, the lunches were spread out in a picnic fashion. Everyone enjoyed the fried chicken and all the trimmings, he said.

When the group arrived at the club's headquarters the men went to work cleaning up the grounds. The women started preparations for the picnic feed. About dark everyone stopped work and enjoyed the delicious food which the women had prepared.

Miller explained that another clean up and picnic get-together is being planned for the near future. It is hoped that the attendance will be large and that the meeting will be as successful as the one recently conducted.

Capt. Bill Cone of Oklahoma City spent the week end here at the parental Henry Cone home. He hopes to be discharged from the Air Corps in October.

Teachers To Seek $3,000 Minimum Of Legislature

According to a news release from the Texas State Teachers Association, the next session of the legislature will be asked to increase the minimum salary for teachers from $2,403 per annum to $3,000.

Texas will need 5,000 new teachers as replacements, or to take care of the rapidly increasing enrollment, stated Chas. Tennyson, secretary of the Teachers Association. The increased salary schedule should induce teachers to rejoin their former profession.

Children Invited To Participate in Children's Theatre

An interesting summer activity is available to all children between the ages of nine and thirteen who join the Children's Theatre.

Children's Theatre meets every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons at 1:30. Meetings are held in the auditorium of the Education Building at West Texas State College. It began last week and is to continue through the summer for twelve weeks.

Several phases of dramatic activity are to be stressed during the summer. Later on a program will be presented consisting of work the children have done. They are now collaborating on a pageant depicting Panhandle history.

It is not too late to participate in Children's Theatre. An invitation is now being extended to all children who are interested and of the ages nine to thirteen, whether they are the children of persons doing summer work at WT or Canyon residents, to come to the next meeting and join in the fun.

Two WT students, Mrs. Zoy Risinger, Bula, and Miss Mary Jim Vincent, Amarillo, are directing the theatre, under the supervision of Dr. Ruth Lowes, professor of elementary education, and Crannell Tolliver, head of the speech department.

District Court Case Ends in Deadlock

The case of Julia Mahle Peters, et. vir. vs. Carl Hair and wife was tried in district court Monday and Tuesday, ending in a mistrial when the vote of the jury stood six to six. The case was filed by Mrs. Peters for possession of her children which the court had previously granted to Mrs. Hair.

A new trial will be ordered by Judge Henry S. Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill from Pasadena, Calif., visited last week in the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Simon, and the homes of her four brothers and sister in this vicinity. From Wednesday until Friday Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Walker had as their guest Mrs. Walker's aunt, Mrs. J. H. Lock of Marfa, Texas, who was enroute home after having visited her daughter, Mrs. Felix Neff, and family of Omaha, Nebr.

Grand Jury in Recess Awaiting Youth Recovery

The Randall County grand jury was in session all day Monday, hearing 38 witnesses from South Amarillo in the alleged attempted assault by a Dallas salesman on the wife of an Amarillo policeman.

The grand jury recessed awaiting the recovery of the youth, Lloyd White, who is in an Amarillo hospital. William Arterburn, the Amarillo policeman, fired a shot at the fleeing youth which entered his hip.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell was called into the investigation and summoned all persons to testify before the grand jury who knew anything about the case.

The recess of the investigating body will continue until such a time as the 18-year-old boy is able to leave the hospital and to appear before the body.

Cooper brothers, Clay, John and Neil, are now owners of the Cashway Store in Hereford, taking charge of the business Monday. The name of the grocery has been changed to Cooper's in order to conform with the other three stores which the brothers own.

Cooper's store in Canyon was started by the late C. O. Cooper, father of the three boys. Clay was a partner with his father in the operation of the store in Canyon. Neil was trained for the grocery business in this original store.

John Cooper, the oldest of the three boys, grew up in the grocery business in McLean. He is now engaged in the operation of a large store in Tucumcari. Clay is manager of the Canyon business.

Canyon News Wins Honors in Texas Press Association

The Canyon News was again winner of high honors at the Annual Convention which was held in the city of Houston Friday and Saturday by the Texas Press Association. Arthur C. Haley, Jr., co-publisher of The News, attended the session and brought back the awards of one plaque; two certificates; three ribbons and one honorable mention. In the 3rd Division, The News nosed out several of the leading weekly newspapers of the State, placing 5th in towns of over 3,500 population.

Lawrence Hunnicutt, reporter on The Canyon News, entered his first column in a state contest and won first place. He has been writing "Just Between You, Me and the Gatepost" since it was started last year.

Those who read this feature regularly have realized the importance of this column to The News, and have followed the weekly feature with a great deal of interest. It will demand a wider reader following since the winning of this first place among some of the best column writers in the state. Hunnicutt came to The Canyon News a year ago, taking advanced work in West Texas State under the GI training plan.

The News won 1st in column writing, with a plaque, certificate of award, and ribbon of achievement; 2nd place in appearance, with a certificate of award, and ribbon of achievement; and 4th in the sweepstakes award, with a ribbon of achievement.

The News won the loving cup two years ago in a lower class of the Texas Press Association, and coming out 4th among stronger competitors is considered a very fine record.

Army Officers Arrive; Start Plans for Opening of ROTC

Major Richard E. Brown, Corps of Engineers, arrived on the West Texas State College campus Tuesday to bring activation of WT's new Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit, expected to be in operation in September.

Sponsoring professor of military science and tactics, Major Brown will remain here until an appropriate officer replaces him, according to President James P. Cornette. He will be assisted in the initial organization by Master Sergeant J. D. Foster, who will be supply sergeant for the unit.

Major Brown said he is at WT "to establish personal laison with President Cornette, assist and supervise the development of facilities and the initial securing of supplies and equipment."

The bulk of equipment for WT's "Branch General" unit will be on the campus by the time the fall session opens, Major Brown said. He and Sgt. Foster have set up offices in the unit's headquarters building.

"Plans are for the freshmen and sophomore classes to be combined this fall," Major Brown said. "If a sufficient number of juniors have the necessary prerequisites for the advanced course, we shall begin offering it in September, too. It would be necessary for these men to have had two years of ROTC previously, and probably transfer to West Texas State, or to have had 12 months of military service within the past five years."

Sgt. Foster, who will be one of the five enlisted men at WT, has served 12 years in the Army in ordnance. For the past four years he has been an instructor for an ROTC unit at Shreveport, La., High School. His wife and two children will join him in Canyon about July 1.

Wesley Bible Class Honors Miss Hannah Robeson, a Pioneer

HANNAH ROBESON

By M. Moss Richardson

On Wednesday, June 11, the Woman's Wesley Bible Class of the First Methodist Church held its monthly all-day meeting with Miss Hannah Robeson on Third Avenue. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers.

Mrs. J. A. Wiseman, president of the class, has long held the opinion that the group could meet there without injury to the hostess. Mrs. Patsy Ray proved herself an excellent co-hostess and enjoyed meeting and welcoming so many of the older group of Canyon church women. Others who cooperated as hostesses were Mrs. Laura Oldham and Miss Elizabeth Cox with Mrs. Art Roberts and Mrs. Fred Scott acting as transportation committee.

Before Cecil Massey left Canyon he treasured the idea of creating a primrose or golden age club for men and women beyond seventy years. He said that the program of amusement for all ages was complete except for that one group. The delight of Miss Robeson and her friends proves that fellowship is relished by all ages.

While at Miss Robeson's the class president had Pat Britain come out and take pictures. The accompaniment to this report is one of them.

Besides those already mentioned, those present were Mesdames E. C. Penick, J. T. Service, Bailley, L. J. McGehee, Hungate, J. L. Moore, J. C. Jenkins, L. L. Gore and Misses Sallie McGehee and M. Moss Richardson, recovered from her recent illness.

First Wheat Arrives Monday Local Markets

Ray Metcalf brought the first wheat to Canyon Monday afternoon. The wheat tested 63, with 12 per cent moisture. The Consumers Elevator bought this wheat, states W. H. Stroud, elevator manager.

At the same time two loads were being delivered at the Ralph Elevator by H. C. Adcock, with the same high test.

Two truckloads of wheat were delivered at the Happy elevators Monday, with a race between the trucks to first reach the elevators.

Wheat harvest will be in full swing over the county before the end of this week, according to prediction.

The only rain received this week fell Friday night, which measured only .18 of an inch. The total of 1952 now measures only 5.89 inches. So far the usual big spring rains have not fallen.

The temperature has been high all of this week, with the hottest being registered Sunday when the mercury shot up to 103 degrees.

Fine Audience Is Reported at "What A Life"

The Palo Duro Players ended their second summer play last week. The play was "What A Life," an adaptation from the radio story of Henry Aldrich. The adaptation was written by Clifford Goldsmith. The four night run in the Branding Iron Theatre was played to a packed house each night.

The renown of the Branding Iron Theatre is being increased by the type of audience that is attending the 1952 summer plays being presented there, a report said. This second production of the season played to people representing 39 towns and five states. The states represented were Oklahoma, New Mexico, North Dakota, Idaho and Nevada.

Once more Amarillo people showed a definite interest in the production. A large number of Amarillo people attended each of the 1952 productions in the BIT.

Many teachers were noted in the audience. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Larsen from Amarillo, (Mr. Larsen will be principal of the new Stephen F. Austin Junior High School there next year), Miss Lynn Porter, mathematics teacher from Big Spring, and Mrs. N. N. Whitworth, head of the speech department at Amarillo High School.

West Texas State was represented by Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette, Dr. Ruth Lowes and Mrs. Mary Sligar.

Several newcomers were among the audience during the production of "What A Life." Some of these newcomers were: Judge and Mrs. C. B. Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Taylor and Dr. Ernestine Smith, all of Amarillo.

A number of children enjoyed the play. One little wide-eyed boy went up to the leading performer and said, "Are you really Henry Aldrich?"

Canyon News Is Studied as an Airforce Model

According to the US Air Force Command in St. John's, Newfoundland, The Canyon News is being studied by U. S. officers as a model for a new publication which this base will start in the near future.

Dr. DeWitt Reddick of the University of Texas School of Journalism furnished the Pepperrell Air Force Base at St. John's with copies of The News as a good example of Texas journalism.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lowe of Gruver and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Combs visited in Big Spring this week end with relatives. While in that vicinity, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe attended the wedding of their son's schoolmate and special friend.

Mrs. F. A. Thomas and daughter, Geneine, have returned from Oklahoma City, Okla., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. O. D. McClellan and family.

CROP Emergency Drive To Last Until July 30

The emergency drive was explained as being conducted for the purpose of obtaining wheat and money for the needy people overseas. The drive is to end July 30.

One method of encouraging donations will be a film on CROP. This film is to be shown to the different civic organizations in the community in the near future.

Thursday night, June 12, there was a meeting of the local CROP officials. Various persons were selected to serve on the committees necessary to carry the responsibility of conducting the drive. The executive committee selected at this meeting is to be the permanent committee for the organization.

Equitable Taxation Is Something That Can Never Be Realized

The only equitable tax in this world is the one which is imposed upon the other fellow! At least, that is the way most folks look upon taxation. The man on the street does not give a whoop about how the other fellow feels that he is being soaked, just so he himself escapes from the obligation of paying taxes.

We may be just a little crude in making such a declaration as we have learned from experience that in years past a lot of folks were glad to pay their taxes!! They looked with pride upon the achievement of their government in former years.

What makes the difference now?

Simply a case of high taxation, and the tax scandal disclosures which have taken place among government officials.

Soaking the rich is as distasteful to the average citizen as undercharging the rich is to any of us.

Our neighbors to the Sorth are having a time trying to get an equitable tax rendition. School districts usually charge the limit of the law for taxes; while cities are more lenient. County taxes are the lowest. That is the reason we have three sets of valuations and three tax offices. Naturally there are a lot of folks who think that they would be better off by writing one check for their taxes, but if they were forced to pay the school rate throughout the tax rolls, there would certainly be a roar raised.

So far we have gotten along pretty well here in Canyon and Randall county. But let us repeat again, we pity the Boards of Equalization as they attempt to equalize taxes. So far as our observation goes, it is physically impossible to equalize taxes. Some folks get by with a too low valuation on their property, regardless of all that the equalizers are able to do.

Don't holler too much about your taxes. After all, we live in the greatest nation on the face of the globe, and we should be proud of our government, regardless of the defects which show up occasionally.

Opponents of Governor Shivers Go Away Back for Ammunition

Governor Shivers is not taking his opponent seriously as of the present time.

We well recall the statement of a long time political leader that county campaigns are won in the last two or three days of the campaign; and state campaigns are won in the last two weeks of the campaign.

Perhaps the Governor is holding his fire, awaiting development as to the charges being made against him.

Some New York Congressman charges that the Governor is using wet-backs from Mexico to do his farm work in the Valley. This charge is termed ridiculous.

The time may have been when Shivers was following the lead of other South Texas farmers in flaunting the lax immigration laws and employing wet-backs, but the Congressman will hardly get enough money for his committee by dealing in past history—if it is history.

The second charge against the Governor is a perpetuation of scandal within his own administration. He is charged with having given the tidelands issue a stab in the back several years ago while he was Lieutenant Governor. What Shivers did then; the implications of his actions; and what he stands for now, are two different stories.

We are told that Shivers will receive about 75% of the votes in the first primary. So far as we are able to ascertain, this percentage is about right. The Governor has no fear of his opponents, a man and a woman.

The Governor well knows that when one enters politics, he gets all of the brickbats and dead cats in the vicinity thrown at his head.

This candidate, Ralph Yarborough, either knows a lot of politics, or is very dumb about the effectiveness of his charges. He ascribes all of the ills of the decade to Governor Shivers.

The people of Texas will decide in July just how far wrong Yarborough is in his charges.

Truman Is Trounced by Senate as Well as by the Supreme Court

President Truman has been handed another series of rebukes by the United States Senate. He is determined not to invoke the Taft-Hartley Law against his old friends, the CIO steel workers.

In spite of the edict of the Supreme Court that the President had no authority to seize the steel mills and to give CIO labor leaders their demands at the expense of the owners, Truman has stood smugly by and done nothing to put the men back to work.

We do not know what the steel workers should receive for their labor; or how much the mills should receive for their products; but we do know that the President is playing right into the hands of CIO, and into the hands of the Commies in standing idly by, allowing the mills to remain idle when vital steel is needed for the Korean war.

Perhaps we know nothing about the situation, but we will bet our old hat that the President of the United States will go down in history as the most unpopular president in recent years if he continues his refusal to give the fighting men in Korea their much needed war equipment for the sake of political prejudices against a Republican sponsored law.

Business men are learning that people buy according to their degree of optimism and not according to their cash on hand.

Some of the current movies are convincing the meekest of us that we really could become great actors and actresses.

What Chance Has Eisenhower To Be Nominated and Elected?

What chance does General Eisenhower have of being elected President of the United States?

We wish we knew, but this same question is being raised on every hand, by a multitude of people.

As of the present time, we will say frankly that it begins to look like Eisenhower will not get the Republican nomination. The Taft forces are in the saddle, and even though Eisenhower is very, very popular with the disgruntled Democrats, the General is not sweeping the country by storm as it was predicted before his arrival from Paris.

We are wondering if the General did not make a mistake in returning to the United States at this time. He has indicated that he knows too little about public questions. Perhaps he is an apt student of government and would soon remedy this defect, but his record is being made now; what he might be able to do in the future is yet unknown.

Without question Senator Taft is the best prepared man to step into the White House. He is not as reactionary as he has been pictured; and he would not turn the government upside down, as his enemies predict. His long training in the Senate and the fact that he is recognized as "Mr. Republican" are strong points in his favor. The fact that he has taken a decided stand against the policies of President Truman has made him many friends in the Democratic party.

When it comes to the GOP convention, Taft will be in the lead. He controls the machinery of the party, from General MacArthur, the keynoter of the convention, down through the party lines.

We shall see what we shall see. There will be a big battle of ballots in July in Chicago.

For Twelve Months We Have Allowed Reds to Grow Stronger

For 12 long months now the United Nations have stood shivering on the sidelines, waiting for the Commies to call the shots in Korea. No one wants another war, but insults are not all that we stand for.

At the time President Truman recalled General MacArthur as commander of the United Natoins forces in Korea, the Commies were hanging on the ropes, and could have been whipped in a short time. But American diplomats shook their heads and declared that to win the war in Korea would mean that the Reds of Russia would attack us.

For 12 long months we have allowed the commies to build up their forces while our troops stood by as clay pigeons, being either killed or wounded.

Major Corbyn, well known by many Canyon citizens, is home from Korea and is out of uniform. He can now talk, telling what our troops think of the situation. His evaluation of the whole situation is not bright. Our troops cannot fight, because of orders from Washington.

In the meanwhile the commies are building up their forces.

It is a joke to think that you can do business with the commies, either in Korea or in Moscow.

For 12 long months our envoys have listened to the insulting propaganda of the Reds under the pretext of writing a truce. For 12 long months we have yielded ground, under the direction of Washington, until there is little left for us to give. As we retreated in our demands, the commies have boldly advanced in their demands.

We are of the opinion that the American people are pretty tired and fed up with the idea of yielding to the commies and shaking in our boots whenever we hear a Red scream.

Taft Strategy May Back-fire in The Republican Convention

It begins to look as if the Taft forces pulled a boner in Texas and in other states where the Eisenhower group was given the boot and the Taft delegates were seated. If GOP makes it impossible for Democrats to vote for the Republican nominee in November, it will be the fault of the Taft forces and no one else.

The Ohio Senator proposes that the vote of the Texas delegation be split, as well as that of other states where feeling runs high about the defeat of the Eisenhower delegates by the Taft forces.

The friends of the General have rejected the offer of the Taft forces for a split in the vote. They want no part in such an arrangement. They know that their forces won in the conventions, and if Taft wants to kick the delegates of the people out, he must bear the consequences.

It was a pretty good move on the part of Taft to suggest a split in the delegates; and equally good politics for the Eisenhower group to reject the split in delegates, as this would be an acknowledgement that Taft would control the convention.

An efficient executive is one who can handle not only his job, but other jobs and other people in them, and put the right people in the right job.

What has become of the old-fashioned business man who went into a business deal expecting the other trader to tell him the truth?

PERTINENT QUESTION

In order to acquire the proper bedside manner, a young doctor accompanied an old practitioner on some of his evening calls. One aspect of the older man's methods puzzled the budding medico.

"Doctor, please explain something to me," he said finally. "Why is it that, regardless of the patient's symptoms, you always ask what he had for dinner? Is that always necessary?"

"I'll say it is," was the reply. "When I know how expensive his menu is, I know how to make out my bill."

Swisher County Electric Co-op. Makes Record

No review of the agricultural interests of this section would be complete without mention of the Swisher County Electric Co-operative, Inc. with offices in Tulia at 115 N. Maxwell. This aggressive Co-operative serves a wide area.

It would be hard indeed to imagine, in these modern times, going back to the days when our farms and ranches were without the conveniences of electric lights and power for the many appliances that lessen housework and make it more pleasant.

Since the inception of Swisher County Electric Co-operative, Inc., the constant aim of its officers, directors and management has been to render the best of service at a minimum cost. In this effort they have been highly successful and because of the tireless efforts of those in charge, we have a model electric co-operative whose methods and policies have been studied by other similar organizations with the view of improving their service.

J. W. Miller, president; Clarence Todd, vice-president; Hall Wrenn, secretary - treasurer; J. A. Glenn, Newt Redmon, D. T. Northcutt, O. Milner, Tom Bostic, George Denny, directors; and O. K. Woodall, manager, are to be complimented for the good job they have done in building the Swisher County Electric Co-operative to its present high level.

These men are rendering a real service to the community and we are glad in this review edition of our paper to point to them with pride — they have always cooperated with every movement that would better the community and we hope for their outstanding organization continued success.

Sarah Jane Martin Becomes Bride of Lt. Von Tungeln in Washington, D. C.

Miss Sarah Jane Martin of Canyon became the bride of Lt. Phillip Jean Von Tungeln on Tuesday, June 17, in Washington, D. C. Accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Martin, Miss Martin left Amarillo on Thursday, June 12, in order to reach Washington in time for the ball given in honor of the graduates of the Officers Candidate School at Fort Belvoir in Washington.

The groom was especially honored in this class as he was one of the top four who are to remain in Washington for eight weeks further training. Because of this honor, his leave was postponed, and the scene of the wedding was moved to Washington.

Miss Martin wore an ankle length pink silk taffeta gown with a scalloped neck and puffed sleeves and a matching pink flower hat. She carried her mother's wedding lace handkerchief. Mrs. Martin wore a full skirted black and white organdy and a small black and white hat. Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Neblett, Dorothy and Charles Neblett of Canyon, who are visiting in Washington at present.

Sarah Jane Martin graduated with honors from Canyon High School and attended West Texas State College and University of Oklahoma where she received her degree this month. She is a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

Lt. Tungeln is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Von Tungeln of El Reno, Oklahoma. He is a member of Phi Psi fraternity and attended the engineering school at the University of Oklahoma. At present he is attending Officers Candidate School for Engineers in Washington, D. C., and he and his bride will make their home in Washington for the next two months.

A wedding shower for Miss Sarah Jane Martin took place at the home of Mrs. Travis Shaw, 1908 East Sixth Avenue, on Wednesday evening, June 11, from 7:30 to 9:30. Guests were received by Mrs. Shaw, Miss Martin, Mrs. Virgil Martin, Miss Helen Martin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Sarah Dodson, grandmother of the bride who came from Noble, Okla., for the occasion.

Color scheme for the evening was rose and white and it was carried out in the beautiful bouquets of larkspur and roses around the living room, in the centerpiece on the dining table of American pillar roses, and in the corsages of those in the receiving line.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Dr. Hattie Anderson, Mrs. Ples Harper, Mrs. Charles Harter, Dr. Alexander Mack, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Mrs. Mary Sligar, Mrs. W. A. Smith and Mrs. Shaw.

As the guests entered they were invited to sign the guest book by Mrs. Suzanne Owens Tatman. Then they were escorted to view the gifts and to be served. Miss Jean Moore and Mrs. J. J. Walker served the punch and Mrs. Harter and Mrs. Harper the cakes.

Guests who called during the evening took advantage of their last opportunity to be with Sarah Jane before her wedding, as her plans were changed because of the postponement of the groom's leave. Instead of a Canyon ceremony, the wedding took place in Washington, D. C., and Sarah Jane left for it the day after the shower.

For her party, Sarah Jane wore a low cut, ballerina length, rose pink net dress, and Helen wore a blue dress of the same material. Mrs. Shaw wore beige lace; Mrs. Martin, henna lace, and Mrs. Dodson, grey and white silk.

Clovis Wedding Is Announced

Witnesses to the ceremony were the bride's parents and Miss Joyce Keller of Canyon.

The couple will spend the summer in Brownfield where Mr. Bevers is engaged in farming. They will return to Canyon this fall for school. Mrs. Bevers will complete her senior year of high school and Mr. Bevers his sophomore year at West Texas State.

Ralph Yarborough Was Here Monday In Race for Governor

JUDGE RALPH YARBOROUGH

A candidate for Governor of Texas was in Canyon Monday morning for a short time. He was Judge Ralph Yarborough, former assistant attorney general of Texas and a former district judge of the Austin district.

The Judge circled the public square, meeting as many voters as possible during his stay here. He was making Tulia, Plainview, Littlefield, Levelland and Lubbock during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost and family in Endee, New Mexico, from Thursday until Saturday; then they all came back to the Robinson home to spend Sunday together there.

Mrs. Ed McCusker of Los Angeles and Carl Hogg of Clovis, N. M., visited over the week end with their sister, Mrs. J. L. Duggan.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris spent the week end in Crosbyton visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blocker.

Mrs. Kenneth Gibson and daughter, Gail, of Perryton visited with her mother, Mrs. Lem Jarrett, over the week end.

Mrs. Don L. Evans of Beaumont is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. F. Doss, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Doss.

Jimmie Allred, publisher of the Mansfield weekly newspaper near Dallas, was a business caller in Canyon Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. King returned Saturday after having spent a vacation in Seattle, Wash., and California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jackson and family spent the week end in Lefors visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lantz.

Mrs. Charles Nester, son and daughter, returned Friday from a visit with her mother at San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. James Curci and sons of Gatesville visited their aunt, Mrs. J. F. Doss, last week end.

C. B. Chandler and son, S. L. Powell, spent the week end at Possum Kingdom fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clark are spending their vacation on the West Coast.

General Douglas MacArthur is not impressed by arguments that he should take off his uniform and give up retirement pay before making speeches construed as political. The General fails to see why he should be singled out for criticism when there is nothing in law or in tradition to deny him the right to speak as a citizen just because he wears a uniform.

The President is much more impressed by the opinion of Fred Vinson, Chief Justice and personal friend, that Mr. Truman did not exceed his authority when he seized the steel industry than he is by the decision of the Supreme Court that he did. Vinson could convince only two other Justices that the President had the power he said he had.

A diplomat from Europe suggests that if the United States really is interested in unifying Europe, as all the politicians say it is, then there is an easy way to accomplish that result: Give all U. S. billions to a central organization in Europe. Nations wanting aid would be required to belong and meet its standards.

Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary, is expected to give up his post in the autumn in order to take a Cabinet job dealing with domestic issues. This would give him broader experience for Winston Churchill's job, when and if Churchill retires.

The British Government thinks that U. S. military officers and diplomats have bungled the truce negotiations in Korea, so it is sending two or three British officials over to get things straightened out.

Gives You Texas

At least three Texas publications gained big national circulation. One was the "Iconoclast," edited by W. C. Brann; another was "Texas Siftings," edited by Knox and Sweet; the third, your columnist had never heard of till he read an article written by the Frontier Times' editor, J. Marvin Hunter.

Citizens of Texas and throughout the South in the 80's remember the old "Sunny South," published at Brownwood by two brothers. They were practical printers and published the Brownwood Banner. They launched the "Sunny South" as a story paper, carrying advertising matter for firms all over the United States. It was published twice a month, contained illustrations, and its circulation grew by leaps and bounds from the very start despite the fact that it was printed in what was a mere village, 60 miles from a railroad.

Within a short time, its circulation ran up to 40,000 copies per issue and, two years later, its circulation was 150,000 copies. It was filled with advertisements of patent medicines, puzzles, fortune tellers, sleight-of-hand tricks, sewing machines, farm implements, and many other things.

What gave the paper such tremendous circulation was a lottery originated by the publishers through extensive advertising. Regular drawings were held and the prizes were almost everything from cheap watches and gold plated rings, to 160-acre farms, and the public seemed to catch the gambling spirit and responded to such an extent that it required a force of ten persons to mail out the prizes and take care of the correspondence. The little postoffice at Brownwood was swamped with the tremendous mail that came in and went out.

The mail contractor, who carried the mail between Brownwood and Eastland, went broke having to provide extra facilities for carrying the bags of mail, as it required extra hacks to carry the loads. On one occasion, the stage was held up and robbed, and when the robbers went through the sacks containing prizes being sent out by the "Sunny South," they found a lot of the cheap jewelry, and amused themselves by throwing the nickle-plated watches against the side of the mail hack.

A fine two-story building was erected for the "Sunny South," and the business grew to such an extent that about 50 people were employed in its several departments. Brownwood got too small for such a successful enterprise, so the brothers moved the "Sunny South" to Waco. Court difficulties wrecked the business and the "Sunny South" ceased to exist.

CAB LOSES RACE TO STORK

Baltimore, Md. — Summoned to rush an expectant mother to a hospital, Morris Winegrad, taxi-driver, did his best to make it before the stork arrived. He was a little too late, however, and two doctors and a nurse rushed out, as he arrived at the hospital, and delivered twins in the back seat of his cab. It was Winegrad's first such experience and he admits, "I was all excited."

MARRIAGE MECCA

Washington, D. C.—If statistics mean anything, Wyoming seems to be good husband-hunting ground for eligible females. According to Census bureau figures for the year 1950 there were 32,940 single males in the State over the age of 14, as against only 14,978 single females of the same age group.

ON BOTH SIDES

Milady's dressing table, it says here, should be between two windows. Thus one obviates the risk of being healthier on one side of the face than the other.

GOOD MORNING

An American traveling in Italy stopped at a small inn for the night and instructed the native courier who accompanied him to enter his name in accordance with the local police regulations. Later in the evening he asked the servant if he had complied with his orders.

"Yes," was the reply.

"How did you write my name?" asked the American.

"Well, Signor, I can't pronounce it," was the reply, "but I copied it from your portmanteau."

The American could not remember having affixed his name to his luggage, but being very tired, decided to press the matter. The next morning he saw the light, whereupon coming downstairs he was greeted by the desk clerk with "Good morning, Signor Warranted Solid Leather."

Paul Hoffman, former Administrator of Marshall Plan funds, on leave from the Ford Foundation to help Eisenhower, has the job of organizing a drive of businessmen and persons of prominence to bring their influence to bear on delegates and politicians at Convention time. It was this type of drive that did much to nominate Wendell Wilkie in 1940.

Harman-Toles Elev. Co. Are Pioneers

Since 1926 Harman-Toles Elevator Co. of Happy has served the grain farmers of this area and rank high in the business life of this entire trade area. The management has always cooperated with every movement that would tend to better agricultural conditions and make the community a better place in which to live.

They offer the very best public storage facilities in their 425,000 bushel capacity modern elevator and always pay fair prices for grain. With a fair wheat crop to be harvested this year, they have put their elevator in readiness to handle their share of it.

Should their patrons want to store their grain under government loan they will assist them in the preparation of their loan papers and issue warehouse receipts whenever desired.

We are indeed glad to single out Vernon H. Harman, Holly Ed. and John Frank Toles, who operate the elevator company bearing their name, and recommend them to the grain farmers of Swisher and Randall Counties. They have built their business on fair dealings and good service.

They have always been glad to give friendly advice to their farmer friends on any matter that pertained to grain farming in this territory. It is because of their leadership in the grain business and their open and above-board business policies that they handle the large volume of the business in this territory, and it is with pleasure that we recommend them to our readers and wish for them continued success.

Unique Pollution Hearing To Be Held Houston June 25-26

A public hearing on atmospheric pollution, the first of its kind ever held in Texas, is scheduled for June 25-26, in Houston at 9:00 a. m., the State Department of Health has announced.

The hearing, to be held in the Baylor University School of Medicine auditorium, is for the purpose of allowing industrial plant managers and the public to see what can be worked out on pollution abatement.

State Health Department engineers will moderate the discussion.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said Texas has no specific anti-pollution laws, and "no standards to go by." The ultimate goal, he said, is to develop a control program.

"We'll need some enabling legislation to set up a program," Dr. Cox said. "The complicated problem in Texas will require a lot of support from both industry and the public."

He said industry has indicated just as great a desire to do something about the situation as has the public.

About 85 percent of all air pollution complaints coming to the State Health Department's attention come from the Houston ship channel area, which Dr. Cox tagged as the reason for having the first public hearing there.

This is the first in what health department engineers hope will be a series of public meetings on air pollution abatement. Potential pollution problems will increase with Texas industrialization, the health officer declared.

In addition to inviting industrial leaders and complaintants from Houston, a representative from the governor's office and the attorney general's office have been asked to be on hand.

Dwight Eisenhower, candidate for office, is amazed to discover the intricacies of campaigning and of question answering that he was not required to learn as an Army officer. Precampaign ideas about how to win without trying hard are having to be revised in a hurry.

Robert Taft is encouraged, not discouraged, by initial reaction among Republican politicians to opening phases of the Eisenhower campaign.

The most efficient and economical permanent building that can be erected on the farm and ranch is a steel structure. Panhandle Building Co., 1001 N. E. 5th Ave. in Amarillo is a specialist in the sales and erection of "STRAN-STEEL QUONSETS" and straight side wall type steel buildings.

These buildings can be nailed and are adapted to many uses, such as machinery and animal barns, general farm utility use and are especially suitable for grain storage. A TYPICAL APPALOOSA HORSE

Ever hear of an Appaloosa breed of horse?

Well, neither did we until Cliff McMurtry of the north part of Randall county came in the other day and started to talk about horses.

He has 20 head of Appaloosa horses on his place. The breed is spotted, and comes from the Near East where it was developed. It is noted as a long distance horse, and able to travel long distances on a small amount of feed.

There are four different types of the breed, but they are distinguished by the fact that they have striped hoofs, the human eye, and spotted skin.

The breed was first introduced in this country in the 18th century, but when the first national show of registered horses was held there were only 87 animals shown.

The spotted horse has a shave tail, very natural, but it looks like the calves have been chewing on the hair.

According to Mr. McMurtry, the Appaloosa is not an Indian pony, or an Indian paint. He first saw the spotted horse on the Deahl Ranch in Colorado. He now owns one of the mares which was on this ranch at that time. The horse is gentle and kind to women and children. McMurtry has known of but one Appaloosa used as rodeo stock. The breed is too gentle for the rodeo.

"Yes, it is more of a hobby than a financial venture with me," stated Mr. McMurtry. "While good animals sell up to $1,000 or more, I have never gone so strong. So far as I know there is only a few animals of this breed in the Panhandle."

Mr. McMurtry is in love with this breed of horses and his conversation indicates, once he gets strung out in discussing the merits of the Appaloosa.

LOGIC

A college professor of logic was attempting to teach his young son the principles of clear thinking and the necessity for defining all terms. He pointed to a wall clock which had just struck the hour.

"Now if I were to take a hammer and smash that clock," he said, "could I be arrested for killing time?"

"No," said the lad without a moment's hesitation. "It would be self defense."

The professor frowned. "How do you figure that out?"

"Because," answered the boy, "the clock struck first."

RIGHT GUESS EARNS $102,000

Nenana, Alaska. — Charles R. Montjoy, believed to be an employee of the Alaska Native Service at Juneau, guessed when the ice on the far north Tenana River would go out, bringing him $102,000 as the holder of the winning ticket in the territory's ice pool. More than 130,000 guesses at $1 each were placed in the pool, but expenses cut the pot to $102,000. Uncle Sam will also be a winner — he'll get $69,000 of Montjoy's payoff.

God hath made man upright, but they have sought out many inventions. —Ecclesiastes 7: 29.

Charlie's face lit up with delight. "Glad!" he echoed. "Why, Dad, he wanted to know why we didn't bring you, Mother, the canary, the cat and the goldfish.

Writers' Round-Up To Start at W. T. Monday

Eight well-known and successful authors and editors will conduct the third Writers' Round-Up, a week-long session for aspiring Panhandle writers to be held June 23 through June 27 at West Texas State College

Miss Loula Grace Erdman, WT's famed novelist who is directing the Round-Up, will appear on the program with Miss Muriel Fuller, novelist and Abelard Press juvenile book department director; Dillon Anderson, outstanding short story writer from Houston; H. L. Gantz, Southwest editor of Farm and Ranch Magazine; Charles L. Sonnichsen, Texas Western University English professor and Southwest folk historian; Lewis Nordyke, free-lance feature writer from Amarillo; Miss Rebecca Patterson, another Southwestern author; and Miss Laurene Chinn of Borger, magazine short story writer.

While the Round-Up sessions conclude June 27, Miss Erdman is offering a course in creative writing which extends for two weeks longer. The period following the conference will be devoted to intensive writing of different forms of composition by students enrolled. Classes are slated each morning and individual conferences with Miss Erdman will be held each afternoon.

Manuscripts already submitted by journalists of the area are being considered for publication by Miss Fuller, Mr. Gantz, and Miss Lilian Kastendike, fiction editor of Redbook. Books, short stories and poetry were entered in the contest for possible publication.

Evening sessions of the Round-up are open to the public, and Miss Erdman particularly urges people in this area to attend a meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday (June 26) in the Branding Iron Theatre, at which Mr. Anderson and Mr. Sonnichsen will speak. A reception is planned to close the evening meeting.

The Round-Up opens at 8:30 a. m., June 23, with registration in Cousins Hall, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State, will welcome delegates. First two addresses will be given by Mr. Gantz on "Writing for the Farm Magazine," and Miss Fuller on "Writing for Young People." Workshops in the various fields of writing are planned each afternoon during the week.

Other addresses during the week are: "Writing for the Confession Magazine" by Miss Chinn; "The Novel" by Miss Fuller; "Postlude to Writing a Book" by Miss Patterson; "Writing the Article" by Mr. Nordyke; "Getting the Interview" and "Research" by Mr. Sonnischen; and "The Short Story" by Mr. Anderson. "Market Tips" will be given by members of the Panhandle Pen Women, organization which originated the Round-Up and conducted conferences for many years.

A dinner honoring Miss Fuller, to which the public is invited, will be held Tuesday night at 6:30 in the College Cafeteria. Tickets are $1.75, and reservations should be made in advance.

After the conference closes Friday, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Sonnichsen will autograph books at two Amarillo bookstores, Cooper & Melen and Russell's. "Friends of the Library" in Amarillo will honor the two men at a dinner Friday at 7 p. m.

School Buildings Reflect Personality Of the Community

J. L. Taylor of the U. S. Department of Education, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon. He was introduced by Dr. Joe R. Humphrey of the Texas Education Agency. The two were here this week for a conference with school superintendents on buildings. Humphreys was a former student in W. T. and is well known by many local citizens.

"The visitor may look at the school buildings and the churches and gives a good appraisal of the community," stated the speaker. The big problem today is to build school rooms to take care of the children.

The curriculum of schools has greatly increased during the recent years, including many more features than the three R's.

Contributing factors to the needs of school buildings are: Increase in the birth rate; the fact that no buildings were erected and few were repaired in war years; the expanded curriculum. Mr. Taylor urged that instead of building in congested sections that school plants be moved to the edge of towns, where there is plenty of room, and that one story buildings be erected.

Rev. Herschel Thurston urged that all citizens of Randall county get behind the CROP program, buying wheat where none had been raised. It is hoped that two carloads will be shipped from Canyon. Grady Persons is CROP representative from the Rotary Club.

The Rotary Club will hold its weekly meeting next Monday at 12:30 at the college cafeteria. The District Assembly will be held on that day, with District Governor Champman in charge.

Visitors were: Carl R. Schell, Lowell Munday, A. G. Atteburg, J. E. Bowman, Bill Dooley, Tom Gallaher, Joe Martin, Allen Shaw, J. J. Sanders, W. H. Torry, all of Amarillo; Glenn H. Wright of Erick, Okla.; Earl Phillips of Hereford; Alfred D. Hills of Dallas; Bob Lindsey of Borger; Seymore Connor, Jack Hughes, Rev. Jim Pickens of Canyon; Major Richard E. Brown and Sgt. Foster of ROTC, West Texas State.

John Lee Smith Here Friday in Race for Congress

JOHN LEE SMITH

John Lee Smith, candidate for Congress-at-Large, visited in Canyon Friday morning on his way to Amarillo where he spoke at a gathering of friends from over the Panhandle. Clyde W. Warwick attended the Amarillo meeting.

Mr. Smith was formerly a State Senator, Lieutenant Governor, and a candidate for Governor of Texas.

He is opposed to the Truman administration in its graft and wastefulness. "I have two boys in Korea. They expect that this government shall be a clean government, and the least we can do for them is to clear out those who deal in graft in this government," stated Mr. Smith.

In discussing his campaign, Mr. Smith made it clear that he was first for Texas and next for America above all the balance of the world. "I was a delegate from Lubbock to Washington to urge the passage of the $85,000,000 appropriation bill for the Canadian River dam. This country cannot grow without water. But we were told by Washington that in view of the fact our government had built a dam in Switzerland at the cost of $190,000,000 to furnish power to Southern France, that we could expect nothing in the way of an appropriation. "I believe in looking after the needs of home folks before we start out to help those who scorn us," stated the speaker.

West Texas should have at least three more Congressmen, and the best way for us to open the way for redistricting is the election of a West Texan to Congress-at-Large was the sentiment expressed Friday. Mr. Smith is a resident of Lubbock at this time.

First Summer Play Has Good Reception

The Palo Duro Players enjoyed good attendance for their four night stand of "Gramercy Ghost." This was the play in which Sarah Churchill made her American stage debut. She was honored additionally by having her father, Winston Churchill, attend her stage debut.

The audiences at the Branding Iron Theater were made up of people representing 35 towns and three states. The area from which they came covered Corpus Christi, Perryton, Albuquerque, N. M., and Louisville, Ky. Amarillo was represented by 128 theater goers and friends.

Some of the friends noted in the audience were Fo Jane Caskey, president of Amarillo Little Theater, as well as director Oma Link Rowley and Mrs. Bud Thompson, board member, of the Lubbock Little Theater. The visitor from Louisville, Kentucky, was Esther Stephens, guest of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Moore of Canyon.

Also seen were a number of ex-students of WT including Mary Jim Vincent and Herschel Allen of Amarillo, Mary Lynn Allen of Miami, and Pat Cantrell from Tulia.

The play, which was given during the first week of June, was one of a series of four that had been scheduled. Last week the players presented "What A Life," a Henry Aldrich story. The play this week is Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie."

Just Between You, Me and ... the Gatepost

One of the things that will please many people here in town is the construction of the new sewage disposal plant which is being planned and is to be financed through a bond issue which will be voted upon soon. All property holders are eligible to vote on this bond issue and a good turnout of voters is highly desired.

The old disposal plant is much too small for the present population of the town. It was constructed to take care of 2,500 inhabitants and the town has grown to almost twice that figure. There are also two pumping stations required at present to keep the sewage flowing through the old system.

The present system is growing old and is having to do about twice the work that it was supposed to do even when it was new. This means a terrifically high maintenance cost and also less efficiency in keeping the sewage flowing through the lines.

The new system which is being planned will require no pumping stations. It will flow naturally and be constructed in such a manner as to serve the entire town adequately. Another desirable factor of the new sewer system is the fact that it can grow as the town grows. Such a system of disposing of the town's sewage is highly desirable because the town is growing at a rather rapid rate.

All you have to do to tell how fast the town is really growing is to take a drive about and note the new houses that are being built. Some of them are pretty, little expensive homes while others are huge impressive homes that are very expensive. Many of these are being built out on the outskirts of town where there was native grass and prairie only a few months ago.

You could not say that the town is mushrooming because the buildings are not appearing overnight. For the most part the houses are going up at an even, steady pace. Almost every month the building permits show a total of approximately $30,000 for residences alone. This means that residences of the town are expanding by almost $400,000 per year. A few years of this kind of expansion and you'll be surprised at the way the old home town will look.

Expansion is going to bring other needs in addition to a new sewage disposal plant, new water mains and fire hydrants. Some of the newer and finer homes going up are located off the pavement at the present time. No doubt there will be other houses going up in these areas soon. All this adds up to additional pavement for the very near future.

There are probably many fathers wearing a new tie, socks, pocket handkerchief or perhaps even a new hat as a result of last Sunday. Father's Day is just another way of letting Dad know about the passing of another year. When the big day is over father goes back to work in the same old manner that he did before. He may have blushed or he may have smiled upon receiving the presents but the chances are he is glad the day is over for another year.

In speaking of the passing of time we may as well pause long enough to get a word in about the weather. Already summer time has laid a heavy hand upon the Panhandle area and according to the calendar this season does not begin until Saturday. Next Saturday is also the longest day of the year so you can expect the hours of sunshine to begin shortening for the remainder of the summer. For those who don't like hot weather the shorter days will hold some consolation. There will be fewer daylight hours of the heat to look forward to in the future.

Here's something that will make a lot of youngsters in this area happy. Plans are being worked out for a summer recreation program for the youngsters. Coach Floyd Murry will be working in this capacity. The activities that are being given consideration are swimming and baseball. Anyone who desires to help the program should contact Floyd Murry or stop by the Chamber of Commerce office and sign up for work in the program.

One of the present needs is for people who will take over a baseball team and sponsor it. All the sports are to be competitive and there will be prizes for the winners. The earlier the teams get started practicing the better opportunity they will have at becoming the winning team. Sponsors should help the teams get a good start by getting in there early and beginning to work with the youngsters as a team.

Glenn Waggoner, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was over last week. He explained that he was making up a list of all the merchants who would be closed on the Fourth of July. This Fourth of July falls on Dollar Day but many of the merchants have agreed to close and observe July 11 as Dollar Day.

Waggoner explained that the Chamber of Commerce had no particular interest in having the merchants close or remain open. The Chamber merely acts as a clearing house in order to let the people know which merchants they can expect to find open in the event the people desire to come to town for something.

Dr. Cornette Spoke To Lions Wednesday

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, spoke to the Lions Club Wednesday about the advantages of West Texas State. It may be a case of being "too close to the forest to see the trees" Dr. Cornette hinted as he said that many pupils leave this area each year to attend school. The speaker said that these students go great distances to get a college education at considerable expense when we have excellent facilities for giving such an education here at home.

Another thing that will make the college here more attractive to male students this fall is the ROTC unit which is being formed. Boys will know exactly what to expect for the first two years of their college career in connection with military service.

During these two years the boys will be required to take a military science course. After the first two years the decision is up to them as to whether or not they will continue with advanced ROTC or take their chances with selective service.

The speaker went on to expain that one of the obstacles the school has to overcome was psychological. This psychological factor is the belief on many people's part that because the school is near, it is not as good as one a great distance away. People do not realize how good a school West Texas really is.

The Lions also entertained several visitors. These were: Rev. H. L. Thurston, Bill Lee, Wayne Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McMurtry, and Mr. and Mrs. James Day of Canyon; and Floyd Garwood of Amarillo.

Prior to the main program, Rev. Thurston spoke briefly for the Ministerial Alliance in asking for the support of the local club for CROP, Christian Rural Overseas Program. The club endorsed the program and Lion Lonnie Byars was appointed as delegate for the Randall County unit.

PORK

The "temporary burdensome surplus" of pork, which the Agriculture Department set out in April to take off the market to help farmers, turned out to be less than one day's slaughtering output. That is all the department bought between April 9 and May 20th in its price-supporting program, totaling 26,490,000 pounds, including smoked ham, shoulder, and bacon.

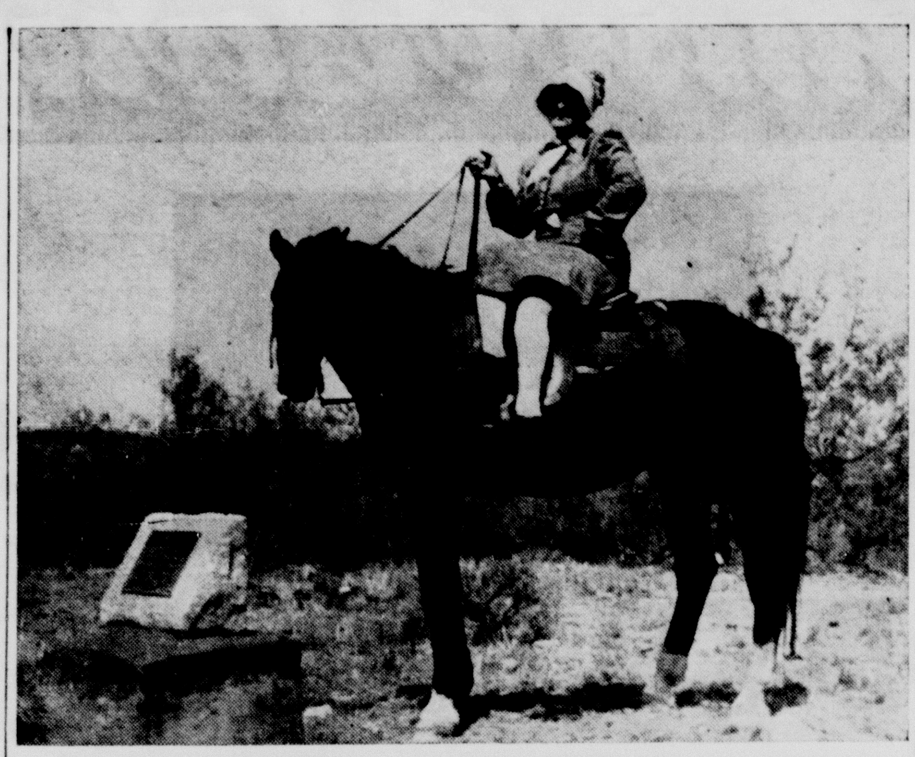
Mrs. E. D. Harrell Is Pioneer of County

By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick

Mrs. Ed Harrell came to Canyon February 5, 1891. She remembers the date well because it was her birthday. She was eight years old that day. She came with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Barks, and her mother's father, William R. Campbell. They came here from Perry, Missouri, where Mrs. Harrell was born.



Seated on the fifth generation of the horse which her mother first gave her to ride in pioneer days, Mrs. E. D. Harrell uses the same saddle which her late husband gave her in 1899. She stands by the monument on the Harrell ranch which her son, Newton, erected in memory of the late Col. Chas. C. Goodnight at the site of the Colonel's first home in the Palo Duro Canyon

In those early days many young men were going west and Mrs. Harrell's relatives were no exception. Three of her uncles came to Canyon in 1890, all settling on land in Randall County. Another uncle came later. As soon as they could find homes the women followed them, arriving in the spring of 1891. Another reason for their coming was that her uncle, Will McElroy, Clyde McElroy's father, had tuberculosis and they hoped this high, dry climate would cure him. This hope was not realized. He died in 1891 and was the first person buried in the cemetery here. Mrs. Harrell's grandfather who lived to be 80 years old, and her mother, who was 83 years old, as well as the other three uncles are all buried in Dreamland Cemetery.

At the time Mrs. Barks came here L. G. Conner would give a lot in Canyon to anyone who would build a house on it. Mrs. Barks, Mrs. Harrell's mother, and Mrs. McElroy, Clyde McElroy's mother, built a three room house at 1104 Sixth. It has since been added to and is occupied today by Mrs. McCoy.

Incidentally, this same house was the first home of the Newsman and his bride. They lived in this house the first two years of their married life.

Col. Goodnight Marker

Soon after Mrs. Barks and Sammie came here they met Ed Harrell, who at that time was in the horse business. In May, 1891, Mrs. Barks purchased a Mexican Spanish pony from Mr. Harrell for her daughter, Sammie. Many years later at the time Mrs. Harrell's son, Newton, dedicated the marker at the spot where Col. Goodnight had built his first home, Mrs. Harrell rode the fifth generation of this same horse using the side saddle Mr. Harrell had given her in 1899 and wearing her sunbonnet. Early in life here Mrs. Harrell found a sunbonnet the best protection against the sun and wind of this climate and she has never given up wearing them.

Sammie Barks went to school in the first school house built in Canyon on the present site of the Grade School Building. Her teacher was P. A. Dowlen. (He was not related to the Dowlens who live here now.) After attending this school for a few years, she went back to Missouri for two years schooling. When she returned to Canyon, Ed Harrell, who had moved to Canyon in 1890 and whom Sammie Barks had met soon after coming to Canyon, met her at the station. His greeting to her was, "Somebody's going to marry you and I've waited long enough." These she says are his exact words.

They were married December 22, 1898, and lived on the farm and ranch just east of the City Dam now owned by the Maddockses. When the old house was torn down last year the Maddockses found literature addressed to Ed Harrell.

Bought Side Saddle

The first thing Mr. Harrell bought his bride in the spring of 1899 was a side saddle. After Newton was born and as long as he was too young to ride alone, Mrs. Harrell would put him on the saddle and he would hold to the horn, even when a baby, until she mounted. Then she would take him in her arms and away they would go riding over the plains.

Newton Samuel Harrell was born to the Ed Harrells on February 23, 1910, and was named for Ed Harrell's grandfather. For six generations the first son of the Harrell family has been named for the grandfather, thus perpetuating the two names Newton and Ed.

In 1917 Ed Harrell bought the ranch in Armstrong County where their son, Newton, and his family now live. They moved to that place in 1918.

In the winter of 1919 Mrs. Harrell had not been off the ranch or seen another woman for six weeks. They decided to come to Canyon to visit. They left their ranch as soon as it was daylight and arrived in Washburn just as the train was leaving. They had to spend the night in Washburn, then took the train the next morning for Amarillo and from Amarillo to Canyon, arriving in Canyon at 10 o'clock the second night after leaving home. Today Mrs. Harrell drives her car to the ranch in one hour.

Harrells Are Pioneers

Mrs. Harrell says all the Harrells were pioneers. Ed Harrell pioneered in Randall County. His great grandfather pioneered in Georgia and his grandfather was the first white child born on the land in Georgia still owned by the Harrells.

One brother of Ed Harrell's grandfather pioneered in California in 1849. His name is closely linked with the early history of California. Another uncle of Ed Harrell drove a herd of cattle from Texas to California.

In 1915 Mr. and Mrs. Harrell took their first big trip, going to California to visit this relative and his family. Mrs. Harrell made the same trip again a few years later with Ed's sister, Mrs. Strickland, of Atlanta, Georgia. This time she sailed from New Orleans to Cuba where she met Mrs. Strickland. From Cuba they sailed through the Panama Canal, up the coast of Mexico and California to San Francisco. They came home by bus and the tale is told that every time the bus stopped they got off and stayed a day. There must be some truth in this story as it took them two months to make the trip from San Francisco to Canyon.

Traveled Extensively

By this time Mrs. Harrell had become travel minded. The next summer she, her granddaughter, Shirley Harrell, and Mrs. Strickland went to Australia. They were seven weeks on the ship, stopping at Hawaii, Samoa, Fiji Islands and New Zealand both on the way to Australia and enroute home. Mrs. Strickland celebrated her 80th birthday on the trip and Mrs. Harrell said that every time the ship docked Mrs. Strickland was the first one off the gangplank and the last one to get back on.

In 1940 Mrs. Harrell took Shirley and went to Alaska, going by way of the Canadian Rockies, stopping at Lake Louise from there to Seattle, Washington, where they sailed for Alaska. She says this is the most beautiful trip she has ever taken. They saw much beautiful scenery, many wild animals, few people, numerous glaciers—the first they had ever seen. Their ship stopped beside one which rose 150 feet high. On this trip Mrs. Harrell took many beautiful pictures which she prizes highly. She says this is one trip she intends to take again, but first she wants to go to South America.

Mrs. Harrell has traveled extensively in the United States, traveling in nearly every state. She has spent two winters in Florida, visited in Washington, D. C., and New York City several times, taking two trips by plane.

In 1950 she went to Europe. She has also traveled in Old Mexico, going by train with a party to Mexico City.

Developed Panhandle

The Harrells have taken an active part in the development of this part of the Panhandle. Mrs. Harrell joined the Presbyterian Church in Amarillo in 1894. At that time her mother had moved to Amarillo and they lived there for two years. She has been an active member ever since, teaching a Sunday School Class for years.

Ed Harrell helped T. D. Hobert of Pampa organize the Panhandle Historical Society and Mrs. Harrell has attended every meeting of the society since.

Mrs. Harrell has been a member of the Canyon School Board since 1947. She has been active in many improvements in connection with the school. She has always been an active member of P. T. A. and has served as a room mother since her granddaughter enrolled in school here; serving beside Shirley through her school years; then she has served beside her grandson, Ed, along that same line through his public school days.

Expert on Sour Dough Biscuits

Hospitality was one of the outstanding characteristics of the Panhandle pioneers and the Harrells still carry on this tradition. Mrs. Harrell soon became known for her sour dough discuits and still makes them for her and her son's entertaining. She keeps a batch of sour dough on hand all the time and bakes sour dough biscuits every morning for breakfast even when she is alone. When her life was written up in the Amarillo News two years ago, people wrote her from all over the United States asking her for her recipe for sour dough biscuits. A number even came by her home to get the recipe. She gave the recipe to all who asked and even gave some of her dough to those who came by her home. She, with her son and his wife, thinks nothing of entertaining 50, 75 or 100 people on their ranch, cooking steaks, sour dough biscuits, beans and apricots over the open fire.

Mrs. Harrell has many priceless heirlooms handed down to her from both the Harrell and Barks families. Among the most treasured are the very beautiful family Bibles in which are recorded the births, marriages and deaths of many generations of Barks and Harrells.

Mrs. Harrell has a remarkable memory and her word has often been taken for authority in settling dates on deeds and records of the county.

Hardships Omitted

It is typical of Mrs. Harrell that she never mentioned the wind, the dust storms, the droughts or any of the so-called hardships of the early pioneers. These to her were simply things encountered, conquered as far as possible and long since forgotten. As a girl she had learned that the best protection for her against the sun and the wind was a sunbonnet. She still wears her sunbonnet on the streets, in her car and in the many parades in which she has had a part. She always rides her horse in the parades at Homecoming for West Texas State, using the same sidesaddle she has always used and wearing her bonnet.

Today Mrs. Harrell is far younger than her years say. She is alert, active and vitally interested in events of the day. She is especially interested in the cattle business—as she once said, "I know cattle." Always good-natured, she inevitably becomes the center of every gathering she attends through her interesting conversation and hearty laugh. Everyone who contacts her soon learns that she has lived simply, abundantly and has loved deeply not only her family but all those whose lives have contacted hers.

Today the many friends of her two grandchildren, Shirley and Ed, lovingly call her "Granny." Shirley is married to W. E. Howse of Wichita, Kansas, and now has two children, making Mrs. Harrell a great grandmother. We feel sure these great grandchildren will also call her "Granny." Ed finished high school in Canyon this spring.

Has a Hobby

One hobby Mrs. Harrell has had all through her life and still continues is crocheting and knitting. She has made many luncheon sets, pillow cases, sweaters, afghans, and socks. She keeps her work basket with her work in it by her favorite chair and always is working on some piece in her leisure hours. Not long ago she heard that the factories were discontinuing her favorite thread so she bought all that was available in the stores in order that she might continue with projects that she now has in mind.

If one were to attempt to sum up the life of this enterprising, useful and lovable woman it could best be done with the words of Micah, "And what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justice, to love kindness and to walk humbly with Thy God." Truly she has done this. Or he might say with the poet:

"Life is just for those who love it
Those who fear it cannot live it.
Keep your heart young to receive it
Life is never tired of giving."

COMMAND PERFORMANCE?

Girl: "I've been asked to be married several times."

Boy Friend: "And who asked you, Daisy?"

Girl: "Mom and Dad."

Dr. Leopold Figi, Chancellor of Austria, in Washington: "When people come to the United States, it's not to a democracy, but a photogracy."

Frances Bartlett Tison, 77-year-old N. J. physician: "I'm an old woman but not too old to keep a house clean."

THE CHRYSLER NEW YORKER CONVERTIBLE
(This body style also available in Windsor DeLuxe with Spitfire Engine.)
White side-wall tires at extra cost.
ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!
To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.
This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers . . . the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!
Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this . . . together with its unequaled response . . . the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.
. . . and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!
But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier . . . and your control five times greater . . . than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds. Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved" . . . restful chair-high seats . . . big, wide-opening doors . . . big windows that let you see more.
It's true . . . until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

MR. FARMER:

New Food & Drug Administration Regulations

We feel that all farmers producing Wheat and Grains should be advised of the new Food and Drug Administration Program so that you will be able to prepare yourselves against certain financial losses not heretofore a primary consideration in determining the market of Wheat. All Farmers should know that soon all Elevator Operators will be forced to examine carefully all deliveries of Wheat by the Farmer for Signs of Insect Infestation and Rodent and Bird Contaminations. The Approximate Tolerances are as Follows:

(1) Wheat cannot have more than 3 weevil exit hole kernels in 100 grams (approx. 4200 kernels) of Wheat.
(2) Wheat cannot have more than an occasional rat or mouse excrement pellet.
(3) Wheat cannot have but an occasional bird excrement pellet.
(4) Wheat cannot have an excessive amount of any kind of filth.

(THESE REGULATIONS ARE IN THE INTEREST OF ALL PEOPLE, AND EVERY EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE TO ENCOURAGE THE HANDLERS OF WHEAT. WHEAT IS A HUMAN FOOD AND MUST BE HANDLED AS FOOD.)

It must be understood that the Food and Drug Administration has almost unlimited authority, and in cases of very bad sanitation conditions, the Administration can condemn wheat in an elevator and seize wheat in transit.

Any Wheat Condemned for Human Consumption Would Necessarily Lose Its Value For Food Purposes And Would Be Discounted To As Low As Livestock Feed Prices.
The best means of controlling Weevil in wheat and preventing wheat from going out of condition is to harvest dry wheat.

Government tests indicate Wheat cannot be safely stored if moisture is over .13

Farmers Livestock Auction Serves Area

No review of the agricultural and livestock interests of this territory would be complete without prominent mention of Farmers Livestock Auction Co., 4505 NE 16th in Amarillo (just north of the "Y" intersection of the Fritch highway and NE 8th.)

This popular livestock auction is held every Saturday. The auctioneers see that the sale moves rapidly and that the very highest prices are obtained.

Since the establishment of Farmers Livestock Auction it has steadily grown and gained the favor of stockmen over a wide area because of the good results and the personal attention that they receive. It both saves and makes them money by the good prices they get for their stock, lower transportation costs and loss in weight when compared to shipping to the more distant markets.

You can always keep posted on the activity at the Farmers Livestock Auction by tuning in their radio program — Bob Izzard with the News each Monday, Wednesday and Friday over KGNC at 6:45 on your dial.

We are glad to single out Farmers Livestock Auction Co. for public mention in this review edition of our paper and to especially compliment the manager, Tirey Ford, on the good service that is given the stockmen whom they serve and to recommend this livestock auction, held every Saturday, to our friends and readers.

Cry of "Wolf" Heard in Trim Federal Budget

Terrifying cries of "Wolf!" are being heard in Washington from those who are feeling the pinch as economy-minded members of Congress grimly proceed with their task of trying to cut federal spending for the next fiscal year in the interests of the over-burdened taxpayer.

Every conceivable argument is used against the budget cuts. On a comparatively minor item, for example, a $5 million cut in the $136 million budget for the District of Columbia, there were outcries that teachers would have to be fired from the schools and that there would be rioting in the jails as prisoners went unfed — all because of the $5 million cut in the $136 million budget. Nothing was said about making up the $5 million by such economy measures as prohibiting D. C. employees from using tax-supported automobiles for private purposes, or depriving D. C. commissioners of their private chauffeurs. In every case it is only the non-essential services that are affected by a budget cut.

The cries of "Wolf!" reach a crescendo, however, on the two biggest budget items — military and foreign aid spending.

Nearly everyone agrees that there is huge waste in these programs — everyone, that is, except the people involved in them. But when Congress proposes reductions aimed at cutting fat — and not muscle — the anguished wails can be heard across the land.

The heads of our military services, appearing before the Senate Appropriations Committee, have used a complete catalogue of arguments for "budget by crisis." General Omar Bradley, for example, led off by saying that 1954 would be the critical year with Russia. This same argument dangles in front of us like the carrot on a stick in front of a donkey; it has been used for 1952 and 1953, and now it is moved ahead to 1954.

Gen. Collins, Army Chief of Staff, said the cuts would wreck the Army. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, said the cuts would give Russia air superiority, and delay our air force build-up by two years.

Admiral Duncan, for the Navy, completed the catalogue by saying that the House-approved reductions "will result in waste of effort and money, will limit the combat readiness of our forces, will delay their modernization and will disrupt the industry of the nation."

Rep. Taber, ranking minority member of the House Appropriations Committee, replied to these arguments by pointing out that the Armed Forces hadn't yet been able to spend their money as fast as Congress gave it to them, and said that any delays were of their own making. He further suggested that these problems wouldn't exist if the Armed Forces spent less time berating Congress and more time improving their own efficiency.

In the foreign aid field, wide publicity is being given by the tax-and-spend advocates to the dire estimates of Gen. George H. Olmstead, who figures that it costs $208 million to equip a division of European ground forces, and to provide it with adequate air support, and that therefore "a billion dollar cut (in the foreign aid program) is the equivalent of sacrificing arms for five European divisions."

This overlooks the fact that a large chunk of the cuts proposed in the $10.5 billion foreign aid program for a fiscal 1953 has nothing whatsoever to do with the direct supplying of arms to European divisions, but is for world-wide economic aid and so-called "defense supporting" programs. Again in this field, the money hasn't been spent as fast as Congress made it available.

Gen. Olmstead also indicated that it costs $400,000 a day to supply ammunition to one division's artillery when it has all its guns firing in wartime, and that a cut of a billion dollars would, in effect, silence all the artillery of 25 divisions for 100 days.

The implications here ignore the fact that this is the same billion already used earlier — and the general also didn't say just how any artillery piece could endure 100 days of constant firing.

To all this, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States commented in the May issue of its monthly Taxpayer's Dollar: "There is no doubt that when the chips are down, the American people won't begrudge their last efforts and their bottom dollars for defense. But there's real danger that the cry of 'Wolf! Wolf!' has been used so often that they won't recognize a crisis when it really arrives."

Mays-White Motor Co. Is Hudson House

Just as the Hudson Motor Co. revolutionized the automobile business and was instrumental in making the 1952 Hudson America's most beautiful automobile, so did Mays-White Motor Co., 1401 W. 7th Avenue in Amarillo, establish itself as automobile headquarters in this trade area. This model new car agency is the center of activity, for motorists have recognized the Mays-White Motor Co. as more than just a new car agency.

Since opening their doors this concern has always endeavored to offer the very best in service. Complete automobile and truck repairs by factory trained mechanics are effected in the shortest possible time and are completely guaranteed. Although the firm has never stressed price as a means of getting repair work, it has been noted that work performed in their modernly equipped shop is so done at a competitive price.

The honest values and business methods of Mays-White Motor Co. are of the highest calibre whether the dealings are for a new 1952 Hudson, one of their low mileage, late model used cars or for repair work in their service department.

A high criterion was set when Mays-White Motor Co. was established and in the business operation, there has been no deviation from that standard, thus making the firm worthy of the patronage of our many readers throughout this trade area.

SWITCH

A defense plant got to hiring a few women for machine operation, and placed them in the shop, interspersed with the men operators.

One morning, one of the women, large and husky, started up her machine and ran into all sort of snags, most of them imaginary. She had been out on a party the night before and couldn't seem to get any coordination between herself and the machine.

Unable to overcome her predicament, she began to cuss and swear so all could hear.

Finally, one of the men came over and remarked in a loud and joking manner as others looked on: "Please, lady, watch your language; remember there're men working here."

LADY-LIKE

In a large store a man who had gone to make a purchase noticed that nylons were being sold in one of the departments, and decided to get a pair for his wife. He was a dignified, middle-aged man and soon found himself buffeted by a crowd of frantic women, also after nylons.

He stood it as long as he could, then, with head lowered and arms outstretched, he barged through the crowd towards the rapidly-diminishing stock of hosiery.

"Here!" cried a shrill voice, "can't you act like a gentleman?"

"I've been acting like a gentleman for an hour," replied the man, still charging forward, "but from now on I'm going to act like a lady."

HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE
GEN. RIDGWAY

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

I have been trying to define for myself the difference between what we commonly hear described as liberal and conservative government; to understand the motives and the thinking of the people on both sides, and to see how old conflicts in political thinking are showing up in today's campaigns.

Students of government can go back and give you examples of Greek and Roman theories. The communists will quote Marx, and observers of the present scene will tell you that there are vast differences between Marxian communism and the Russian administration of Joe Stalin.

Here in this country, the conservatives look back to Thomas Jefferson, who said that the best governed are the least governed, and to Benjamin Franklin and others who warned against high taxes.

When America was having its beginnings, there were those who insisted that the will of the majority should be the governing force in running the country. These people believed that an educated and enlightened citizenship was capable of governing itself — and that it is the basis of our present democracy.

But there were others, such as Alexander Hamilton, who thought that the public could not be trusted to reach a logical conclusion by means of the ballot box. This school of thinkers would have substituted something else for the kind of democratic government that we have today.

Plato advocated rule by a race of "philosopher kings" who would be chosen for their wisdom and integrity, and not by popular election. In England, you find the House of Lords, whose members are chosen by heredity; and the House of Commons, whose members are elected by popular vote. The British, in other words, have a sort of combination monarchy-democracy.

In Marxian communism, the state is all-important. The theory is that if you have a strong and prosperous state, the individual citizen will find his place and be able to live a happy and peaceful life.

Needless to say, the government of Stalin has not been able to achieve the Marxian ideal.

Here in this country, we have believed that the individual and his rights are paramount. We have thought that a man ought to have the right to work out his own destiny for himself. The Horatio Alger story is familiar to all of us — it extolled the virtues of a nation wherein a poor man, by means of industry and thrift, could rise to the top of the economic world. (It never did any harm if the poor boy managed to marry the boss's daughter.)

When the depression came, we found in this country that there were many citizens who, through no fault of their own, were unable to make a living for themselves and their families.

There were thousands who were willing to work, but for whom there were no jobs. Something had to be done. The government had to do it. The alphabetical bureaus were established to provide work and relief for a suffering people.

That was an emergency. Most of us thought that when the emergency was over, the alphabetical bureaus would be abolished and we would resume life at what we considered to be a "normal" pace. But about that time we found ourselves in another world war.

That war constituted another emergency, so that we had to resign ourselves to another period of government restrictions and controls, of self-denial and high taxes.

Not long after World War II we got into the Korean mess, with the constant threat of World War III hanging over us. And that's where we are today. Since 1932, we have been living in an emergency of one kind or another.

I do not have the space here to bring this analysis down to the present and apply it to this year's political campaigns. I'll try to get into that next week.

Food Poisoning Increases With Warm Weather

Bacteria grow more readily in warm weather and this increases the danger of food poisoning, warns Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Since modern refrigeration public health has improved. However, cases of food poisoning do occur, in spite of the more healthful measures of storing food.

Sickness from food poisoning usually strikes quickly and explosively, and those who do not eat the infected food escape. Usually in one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to 12 hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Another important safeguard to prevent food contamination is that the hands of the person who prepares food be scrupulously clean, and free from cuts and sores of any kind.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, and weakness. Whenever you feel these symptoms, be sure to call your physician. Do not wait, hoping it will wear off; sometimes food poisoning is fatal!

The staphylococcus organism grows best in foods which are slightly fatty, such as fat meats, salads with rich dressings, cream pies, cream puffs, or any food with custard fillings. So if anyone in your family takes his lunch to work during the coming hot months be careful of the foods you put in the lunch, and don't include any of these foods.

President Truman personally balked at the idea that prisoners of war in Korea should be turned back to the Communists against their will even if force had to be used. Mr. Truman remembered the experience at the end of World War II when hundreds of thousands of Russians were forcibly repatriated by Americans only to face firing squads or be sent as slave labor to Siberia.

DANISH BOY SAVES 2

Clementon, N. J. — Yohan Sventrup, 16-year-old Danish youth who had been in America only four days, en route from his home to a grocery store. As he passed by Clementon Lake, he noticed two small boys thrashing about in the water. Dropping his groceries and removing his shoes, he jumped in and dragged the two boys ashore. All three were treated for exposure at a hospital and released.

NOT PLAYING 'POSSUM

Houston, Tex. — Mrs. H. T. Siems was backing her car out of the garage when it stalled. Lifting the hood, she saw a pile of leaves on the motor, heard a hissing sound and, thinking there was a snake in the motor, she quickly dropped the hood in place. Later, armed with a stick, she lifted the hood. Instead of a snake, there was a mama 'possum, with nine little 'possums, nesting amid leaves, waste paper and sticks on the warm motor.

General Mark Clark, like other generals before him in the job of Supreme Commander in the Far East, is becoming irked by the restrictions that govern the war in Korea. General Clark would like an opportunity to become rougher with the Communists, who are being allowed to build up military power under cover of so-called "truce negotiations."

A gill is one-eighth of a quart.

J. Howard McGrath, former Attorney General, has not been able to sell President Truman upon the idea of showing special interest in a Southerner, Senator Richard Russell, for the Democratic nomination. Mr. Truman is insisting that the party must make an issue of a compulsory fair-employment law.
